Teacher note

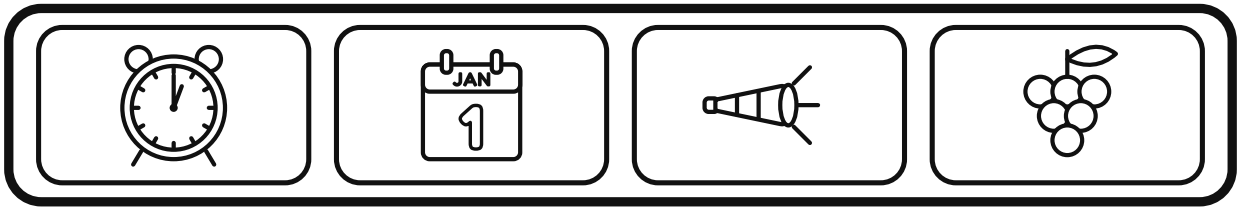

For the first week back or a New Year party: read the mini-book, put the word mat out for a "my wishes for the year" piece of writing, give each child a bunting flag to colour and hang the Happy New Year banner, make the countdown chain, then the colouring, word search and word scramble. Answer keys are in the pack; pull them out before you photocopy.

New Year's Day is Friday 1 January 2027. The pack suits New Year's Eve at home and the first week back at school.

Printing: print at 100% (actual size). The reader's mini-book is one sheet that folds into 8 little pages; the steps are on its web page. The word mat pages are landscape. Each page has a QR code that opens its own page, where it can also be coloured online or printed again on its own.

parts of the world that share one clock time

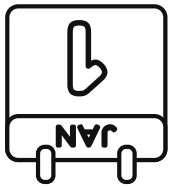

chime

Hogmanay

resolution
a promise to do something new or better

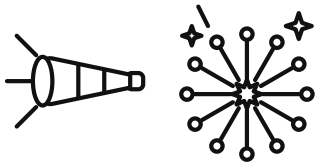

On New Year's Eve, many people stay up late. They count down the last ten seconds to midnight. Then they cheer and shout Happy New Year!

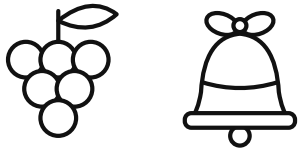

New Year's Day is the first day of the year. In most of the world, it is on 1 January. People say goodbye to the old year and hello to the new one.

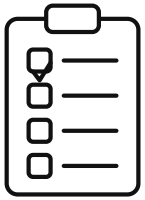

The world has time zones, so the new year does not start everywhere at once. Kiribati is one of the first places. Samoa, Tonga and New Zealand come soon after.

Many cities light up the sky with fireworks. Some people ring bells, bang pots or blow party horns to make a happy noise.

In Spain, some people eat twelve grapes at midnight, one for each chime of the clock. In Scotland, the New Year party is called Hogmanay.

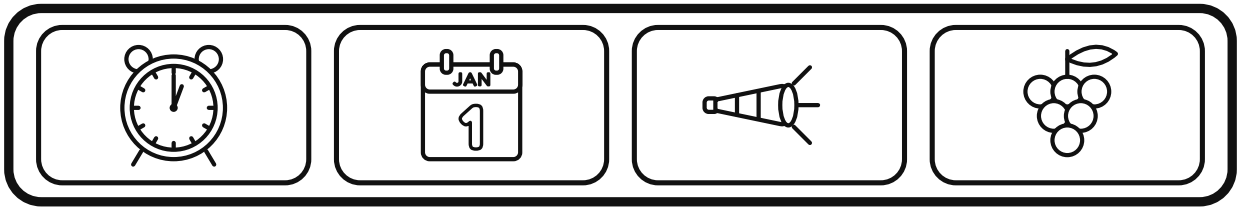

Many people make a New Year's resolution. It is a promise to do something new or better. Not every culture starts its year on 1 January.
